

In your world of silence, I can hear you
In your darkest place, I can see you
When you feel alone, I am with you
When I sense your fear, I will protect you

In a moment of doubt, I will assure you
In those moments of anxiety, I will calm you
When your sleep is restless, I will comfort you
When you feel lost, I will guide you

I ask not much in return, except for the love I have for you
